

SAM RANDALL AT THE HELM.

GUIDING THE SUNDAY CIVIL BILL OVER BREAKERS IN THE HOUSE.

An interesting colloquy in which he tried to make Tom Reed understand the difference between spending one's own money and the public's money—But few additions made to the bill as reported.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The Oklahoma bill did not come before the House to-day. Mr. Springer was probably called up on Tuesday. Mr. Randall again cleared the obstruction in the way of his sundry civil appropriation bill, and the day was spent in its consideration. He won a victory in his fight for the hand-clap printers in the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. Many amendments were offered to the bill, but the great Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations retained his Committee and the increase in appropriations was very small. Tom Reed worried him little, but did it so good naturedly that it cheered him in his efforts to forward the bill. At the close of the day, however, Mr. Randall looked fatigued. Although in good health, he apparently has physical strength. No man in the House works harder, and ought to have more rest.

The prayer this morning was short. After the reading of the journal a pile of executive documents were referred to various committees. One was a letter from the Secretary of War about the purchase of 225 acres of land owned by the Kingman estate. The price fixed by the War Department was $150,000. Another was from the Secretary of War detailing the progress of the use of the English steamship line in New York Harbor. Another was a communication from the Secretary of the Army and Navy about the purchase of the Jersey City and Ellis Island. A resolution concerning the formal counting of the electoral college was referred to the Committee on the Election of President and Vice-President. Mr. Blanchard secured the reprinting of the River and Harbor bill. The House reported the Army Appropriation bill. Mr. Randall then introduced the sundry civil appropriation bill. The morning hour went by the board. The House then turned to the bill of the whole, with Mr. Dockery of Missouri in the chair. There was some objection to the sundry civil bill, but it was passed. Mr. Randall said that it would be a great personal satisfaction to him if he were allowed to go on. All objections were withdrawn.

The amendment under consideration was one offered by Mr. White of Brooklyn concerning the employment of the printing and engraving machines in the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. The bill was now $300,000 a year for press and ink, and $100,000 for the printing of the bill. The Committee on Appropriations reduced the latter to one cent. The House then passed the bill. IN AND OUT DOOR SPORTS.

THE AUSTRALIAN BASE BALL PARTY TO RETURN ABOUT APRIL 10.

A New Stock Company Formed to Run the Indianapolis Club—The Turf, Fights, and Athletics.

Walter Spalding was found in his Broadway office yesterday surrounded by great piles of newspaper clippings, which he had just received from Australia. Letters were also received from A. G. Spalding, in which he said that the party would arrive in this city on or about April 10. They would be in Egypt early in February, and in Italy during the latter part of February. Walter Spalding called that the League championship season would begin about April 24. For this reason the trip will be hurried through. It was at first intended that the party would be back in New York by the end of the month, but this has been changed. The descriptions published in the Australian papers were unique in their way. The writers in some respects copied the American style, but in the main, they laid themselves out in comparing the game to cricket and football. The extracts, which Mr. Spalding had sent to him, were in the Sydney Morning Herald, the Melbourne Herald, and the Melbourne papers, and in each case the reports of the games, including a picture of the ball field, were from one to seven columns. The description of how base ball was played was plain enough, but the games were somewhat mixed. Still the reporters out there did not know the game, and the descriptions were hit and miss. The people out there, however, to hit a ball with a round bat, without cutting the ball to one's feet or popping it in the air.

The meeting of the college league calls to mind the fact that the opening of the season brings with it the important question of Princeton's prospects in base ball. Even now a general estimate and comparison of the strength of the Princeton team is being made. The Princeton team is being made up of the Princeton team. CLARENCE, Jan. 25.—Two promising young players, who are expected to make the Minneapolis Club of the Western Association to-day, are J. T. Burns of Newburgh, N. Y., and C. C. Henderson of the East End, a right-hander, who is likely to develop into a very good pitcher.

The West Shore Base Ball Club of Weehawken will have one of the strongest amateur teams in the country this season. The team will be made up as follows: D. Sullivan, c.; C. Robinson, p.; J. Lane, i. f.; C. Wells, 2. b.; W. Wayne, 3. b.; W. McLachlan, c. f.; J. Curtis, r. f.; F. Wilson, substitute and change pitcher.

Baseballers, Jan. 25.—The Baltimore Base Ball Club has been asked to make an offer for Louisville's batter, Hecker and Cook, or else waive claim and let the Louisville club have them. It would be a cash bonus, but the Baltimore club would not be able to make an offer for Hecker and Cook, who are now in the hands of the Louisville club.

The Stapleton Base Ball Club has made many improvements for the coming season. The team will be made up as follows: J. T. Burns, c.; C. C. Henderson, p.; J. Lane, i. f.; C. Wells, 2. b.; W. Wayne, 3. b.; W. McLachlan, c. f.; J. Curtis, r. f.; F. Wilson, substitute and change pitcher.

NOT A PIMPLE ON HIM NOW.

Head with Eczema. Hair All Gone. Scalp Covered with Eruptions. Thought His Hair Would Never Grow. Cured by CUTICURA.

I cannot say enough in praise of the CUTICURA REMEDY. My boy, when one year of age, was so bad with eczema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with eruptions, which the doctors said was incurable. But his hair would never grow again. Despairing of a cure from physicians, I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDY, and I am happy to say, with the most perfect success. His hair is now splendid, and there is not a pimple on him. I recommend the CUTICURA REMEDY to mothers as the most speedy, economical, and sure cure for all skin diseases of infants and children, and feel that every mother who has an afflicted child will thank me for so doing.

A Fever Sixty Eight Years Cured. I must extend to you the thanks of one of my customers, who has been cured, by using the CUTICURA REMEDY, of a fever which had lasted for six years. He was so bad with eczema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with eruptions, which the doctors said was incurable. But his hair would never grow again. BROKEN DOWN BY CIGARETTES. Barrett Mined Exciting Miss Sullivan. Home and went and shot him. Eugene Demitt Barrett, the young New Yorker, who shot himself in a train from this city as it was entering the station at Boston on Wednesday night, was alive yesterday, and there was faint hopes of his recovery. At the request of his father, Thomas H. Barrett of 1041 Park avenue, who is with him, Father Flanagan of St. Joseph's Church, Boston, administered extreme unction to him on Thursday morning. Eugene Demitt Barrett, the young New Yorker, who shot himself in a train from this city as it was entering the station at Boston on Wednesday night, was alive yesterday, and there was faint hopes of his recovery.

Mr. Barrett could conceive of no reason for his son's shooting himself except that he must be temporarily insane from the effects of smoking cigarettes. Barrett smoked as many as six cigarettes a day, and his relatives had continually warned him to be moderate. Mr. Barrett said that he knew nothing of the "Snail" mentioned in the papers, and that his son's pocket in the works. Take care of your health. It is supposed that disappointment at not finding Sullivan unsettled his mind, already shaken by the death of his father, who was employed as a clerk by Duane & Swift of 174 Fulton street, just around the corner from the hotel where he was staying. With her, in the course of time he became her regular escort home when she got through with her work.
